

The finest flavours begin with the purest ingredients

More and more you will notice the Pure logo appearing on product labels throughout the Verstegen product range, from single herbs, spices, blends, sauces, marinades, crumbs, burger mixes and more, but what does it mean exactly and how can you make use of it?

Allergen Transparency

Pure is now the starting point for all new product developments at Verstegen. The new allergen labelling regulations that came into effect in December 2014 have highlighted the need for greater allergen transparency, and have also created a lot more work for food professionals. With this in mind, please refer to the product list on the back page where you will see a list of all declarable allergens per variety.

Rest assured that where you see the Pure logo, these products contain no declarable allergens. To aid customer awareness you are more than welcome to make use of the Verstegen Pure logo on your own counter tickets. Simply contact us directly, or visit our website to download the logo

Give your counter products a refreshing burst of colour, flavour and texture with the complete range of breadcrumbs and schnitzel mixes from Verstegen. Together with the unique 'Batter & Shake' method, it has never been easier to apply breadcrumbs and schnitzel mixes to your value-added meat, fish and vegetable products. This not only aids the cooking process, but ensures that your crumbed products keep their visual appeal, eliminating the problem of soggy crumbs.

Don't be afraid to get creative with all kinds of different products. Verstegen crumbs and schnitzel mixes are suitable for using on all meat schnitzels, burgers, kievs, nuggets, kebabs, scotch eggs, oven-ready products, meatballs, rolled joints and much more.
